Re: Changes to the Curriculum in Archaeology Major and Minor

Date: Oct 15, 2015

We would like to add the following course to those accepted for the Archaeology major and minor: CLAR 480 Egypt after the Pharaohs (new course submitted for review this fall)

The course should count towards the Long-Term History requirement for the major and for the Area Studies requirements for the minor.

We have attached edited text for the bulletin that shows these changes (additions are in bold and highlighted).

The minor in archaeology draws on a number of disciplines and departments—principally anthropology, classics, and art—in the study of the ancient world, the reconstruction of past lifeways, and the interpretation of ancient social, political, and economic systems.

The minor helps prepare students for graduate study in anthropological archaeology, classical archaeology, cultural resource management, and historical preservation. It also provides any student with a strong intellectual interest in archaeology with a structured introduction to this field. Students interested in the minor in archaeology may contact Director of Undergraduate Studies Margaret Scarry and consult the Web site: archaeology.unc.edu/degrees/minor.html.
