Faculty of the Medical Anthropology Minor would like to include AAAD 387: HIV/AIDS in Africa and the Diaspora as a course eligible to be applied for credit towards the minor. We have conferred with AAAD and they have given us permission to include this course in the Medical Anthropology minor.

In addition, pending approval of these new courses by the College, we would also like to have Anth 217 Human Biology; Anth 326 Practicing Medical Anthropology, Anth 390 Special Topics in Medical Anthropology; and Anth 471 Biocultural Perspectives on Maternal and Child Health count for credit towards the Medical Anthropology Minor.

These courses take an anthropological approach and will add important issues to our curriculum.

The revised bulletin text is appended.

Sincerely,

Michele Rivkin-Fish
Associate Professor
Associate Chair

Medical Anthropology Minor

This option is especially appropriate for those planning careers in medicine and health professions. The minor consists of five three-hour courses taken from the following list of courses: AAAD 300, 387; ANTH 66H, 143, 147, 151, 217, 270, 278, 280, 315, 318, 319, 320, 323, 325, 326, 390, 414, 422, 423, 426, 437, 439, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 470, 471, 473, 474, 538, 585, 623, 624, 649, and 650. Students must have a grade of C or better in at least four of the five courses, and at least three courses must be taken at UNC–Chapel Hill or in a program officially sponsored by the University. Students planning on a minor in medical anthropology should inform the department's director of undergraduate studies. For more information about medical anthropology see medicalanthropology.unc.edu.
