Nicholas J. Siedentop Curriculum Director Office of Undergraduate Curricula University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill 3018 Steele Building CB #3504

Dear Nick,

I write to request a correction in the Undergraduate Catalog's Distribution Course Lists for Art History undergraduate courses. I regret that some classes were left out when we compiled the new Distribution Course Lists for the revised Art History BA requirements, and they now need to be added. All of the courses fall into the EM I (Europe and the Mediterranean, Prehistoric to 1300) category of the Distribution Course Lists, and most of them are cross-listed with the Classics Department. I append a Pdf. of the Distribution Course Lists marked up with the additions that will need to be made.

If you have any questions or require further clarification or documentation, or if I may be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Best wishes,

Nal Carol Magee

The undergraduate program in art history is directed toward two main educational goals:

- to provide students with an excellent liberal arts foundation through an understanding of the historical and global significance, cultural diversity, and intellectual richness of human artistic traditions from prehistoric times to the present; and
- to provide these students with the intellectual tools needed to investigate the complex roles played by the arts in a variety of social contexts.

Skills in visual analysis, historical research, critical reading, analytical and descriptive writing, and oral communication are developed throughout the course of the study. The practice of art history is interdisciplinary, dynamically engaged with many fields in the humanities and social sciences, as well as with the University's diverse area studies programs and the Ackland Art Museum. The art history major equips students with skills, knowledge, and values to negotiate rapidly changing, richly diverse, and increasingly interconnected local, national, and worldwide communities.

Department Programs

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the art history program, students should be able to:

- Demonstrate knowledge of the works of art, artists, viewers, and patrons in a variety of cultures and societies; and the visual arts in the context of the past and present societies that produced them
- Recognize that visual forms and symbols are historically and culturally contingent, and that interpretation requires a knowledge of the visual language specific to the work of art, as a result of studying the arts in a variety of cultures and historical moments
- Pose an art historical question, pursue that question through research in original and secondary sources, evaluate evidence, and create an argument in response to that evidence
- Demonstrate deep content area knowledge by explaining and discussing intelligently major issues related to that field

Requirements

In addition to the program requirements listed below, students must

- attain a final cumulative GPA of at least 2.0
- complete a minimum of 45 academic credit hours earned from UNC– Chapel Hill courses
- take at least half of their major course requirements (courses and credit hours) at UNC-Chapel Hill
- earn a minimum of 18 hours of C or better in the major core requirements (some majors require 21 hours).

For more information, please consult the degree requirements section of the catalog (http://catalog.unc.edu/undergraduate/general-education-curriculum-degree-requirements/#degreerequirementstext).
